

Public lighting in Roma

Visual impressions

2023

Introduction

Pictures taken in Roma in October 2023, with a Canon G9X MkII, on manual mode, at 50mm f4 1/8s 800iso, WB daylight.

Original files format: JPEG highest quality 5472×3648.

Pictures appearance is very close to the visual impressions within the Roman streets.

(Pictures taken in Berlin, Germany, and Paris, France, following the same protocol are available at this link)

Project intended to compare levels of luminance between some European capitals.

The capture below, from <https://lighttrends.lightpollutionmap.info>, gives the luminance levels of the Italian capital, according to the classical false color scale of the light pollution atlas from Falchi and al.

Pictures are located on the maps below:

Ratio to natural brightness	Artificial brightness ($\mu\text{cd}/\text{m}^2$)	Color
0.64–1.28	111–223	Green
1.28–2.56	223–445	Yellow
2.56–5.12	445–890	Orange
5.12–10.2	890–1780	Red
